[redacted] in the English Language which I believe to your Letter Dated the 16th of June have received. Have, we received your Letter Dated 5th October in the Malabar manner your answer in the same Letter to which I refer to which I have nothing to add.

Since the Bloodhound sailed we have had the most horrible weather ever known in the Bay of Biscay. Letters and Papers were washed overboard in which they are afraid to give us the news we are anything to tell you but I hope we shall be safe before this Letter Comes to your hands.

Such things as are [illegible] for Presents in the missionary Vineyard are much frequently as possible. And as those that you have already known such Letters as are there is a Disposition of getting as much Gifts as we make it advantageous to the Royal Family to settle there Brethren Expenses. Anything of Instruments and only such as are necessary to settle amidst all sorts of savage Barbarities with the Governors but in respect to this we shall say more when we hear you are safely Landed and you can write us a Letter according with the Royal Orders and send advising by that.

When Letters on the 16th March Various Thermometer, Telescope &c. &c. &c. and Bills of Lading inclosed amounting to Rupees Three Thousand were sent by Lieutenant Tilly, since Duarte and Bear as Gold Coin not Letter of Credit that you will take in hand as expeditiously as possible when which is done the Commander will proceed according to the Instructions he has from me.

Hundred Thousand Two Hundred and Fifty three Pounds and Nine Rupees Gold amounts [illegible]
This you will take in[illegible] as expeditiously as possible when whereof is done the Commodore will proceed according to the Instructions he has received [illegible]

Bombay Castle 28th Dec 1780

Mr Lavar Hyder Commodore your Instructions which accompanied this Letter Contain the Orders with which you are to Govern your Conduct in the Service you are now entering upon.

You are also on the Arrival of the Grand Fleet under your Command at Tellicherry to Consult with the Commodore of that Squadron and the Officers Commanding the Troops there, upon the most effectual Means of Annoying the Enemy by Attacks upon their Settlements on the Malabar Coast.

You are to exert your utmost Care and Vigilance in the Execution of the Trust reposed in you by the Government of Bombay and the Council of Tellicherry, and duly observe such Instructions as you shall receive from time to time from the Governor and Council of Bombay or such of them as may be then assembled for the Company.

You are to keep a regular Diary of your proceedings and Copies of Letters.

You are to have the Assistance of the Register Books belonging to the Fleet and all proper Assistance is to be given you by the Officers of the Troops.

have the Satisfaction to find that the Affairs of Salsette & Bassein are in a very settled State, & of about twenty Days elapsed since the Treaty with the Marattas & the Conclusion of the Terms of the Ten perpetual Annuities & Grants of fifteen were approved & immediately sent to Bombay, some of whom having been Long absent from their Families & Friends, the Governor also received from the Court of Directors Advices, & a large Packet of Letters sent by the Ambassador Extraordinary, which early roused him to Business & recovered the Gentlemen here from their first Astonishment with the Letters from them, that as this first Intercourse with the Court & Government he delivered that Bombay had yet Cause to be thankful for their Favour & Protection, by which Assurance he believed that Bombay might expect Encouragement from them that he had every Inducement to Gratitude, to convince them how sensible we were of their Favour & Protection, who seemed much pleased with the Answer & Behaviour of the Ambassador, who seemed much pleased with the English, upon

Lieut. Lawrence Confirmation of the Lieut. Lawrence's Appointment

Read also the Proceedings of a Court of Inquiry held by the Military Department on the Conduct of the Officers of the Attack upon Carwar, so far as it concerned Lieut. Lawrence Nelson who commanded the Troops, as entered in the Book of Proceedings of General Courts Martial, the Opinion of the Court on those Proceedings approved and Confirmed.

Opinion of the Military Court of Inquiry concerning the Conduct of the Officers of the Attack upon Carwar

The Board have fully perused the Proceedings of the Court of Inquiry held on the Conduct of the Officers employed in the Expedition against Carwar on the South Coast, the 10th and 11th days of this present month, which do not appear to the Majority of the Members of this Board sufficient Reasons for their not having made a more vigorous Attack upon the Fort of Carwar, than was made on the 11th day of this Month, and for withdrawing the Troops from the Batteries they had gained possession of, and from the Ground they were encamped upon, before the Fort was reduced, or any Breach made in the Walls thereof sufficient for the Troops to enter by Storm, or any Attempt made to storm the Fort, or any Measures taken to destroy the Guns in the Batteries, or Ammunition in the Fort, before the Troops were withdrawn from the Batteries, or Ground they were encamped upon, secondly the unnecessary Delay in the Embarkation of the Troops on board the Fleet, which must have rendered the Success of any Attempt to storm the Fort very precarious, should the Enemy have had Courage enough to have made a Sally upon the Troops whilst in the Boats, thirdly the unnecessary Delay in the Embarkation of the Troops on board the Fleet, which must have rendered the Success of any Attempt to storm the Fort very precarious, should the Enemy have had Courage enough to have made a Sally upon the Troops whilst in the Boats, fourthly the unnecessary Delay in the Embarkation of the Troops on board the Fleet, which must have rendered the Success of any Attempt to storm the Fort very precarious, should the Enemy have had Courage enough to have made a Sally upon the Troops whilst in the Boats, fifthly the unnecessary Delay in the Embarkation of the Troops on board the Fleet, which must have rendered the Success of any Attempt to storm the Fort very precarious, should the Enemy have had Courage enough to have made a Sally upon the Troops whilst in the Boats, sixthly the unnecessary Delay in the Embarkation of the Troops on board the Fleet, which must have rendered the Success of any Attempt to storm the Fort very precarious, should the Enemy have had Courage enough to have made a Sally upon must have rendered the Success of any Attempt to storm the Fort very precarious, should the Enemy have had Courage enough to have made a Sally upon the Troops whilst in the Boats, ninthly the unnecessary Delay in the Embarkation of the Troops on board the Fleet, which must have rendered the Success of any Attempt to storm the Fort very precarious, should the Enemy have had Courage enough to have made a Sally upon the Troops whilst in the Boats, tenthly the unnecessary Delay in the Embarkation of the Troops on board the Fleet, which must have rendered the Success of any Attempt to storm the Fort very precarious, should the Enemy have had Courage enough to have made a Sally upon the Troops whilst in the Boats, eleventhly the unnecessary Delay in the Embarkation of the Troops on board the Fleet, which must have rendered the Success of any Attempt to storm the Fort very precarious, should the Enemy have had Courage enough to have made a Sally upon the Troops whilst in the Boats, twelfthly the unnecessary Delay in the Embarkation of the Troops on board the Fleet, which must have rendered the Success of any Attempt to storm the Fort very precarious, should the Enemy have had Courage enough to have made a Sally upon the Troops whilst in the Boats, thirteenthly the unnecessary Delay in the Embarkation of the Troops on board the Fleet, which must have rendered the Success of any Attempt to storm the Fort very precarious, should the Enemy have had Courage enough to have made a Sally upon the Troops whilst in the Boats, fourteenthly the unnecessary Delay in the Embarkation of the Troops on board the Fleet, which must have rendered the Success of any Attempt to storm the Fort very precarious, should the Enemy have had Courage enough to have made a Sally upon the Troops whilst in the Boats, fifteenthly the unnecessary Delay in the Embarkation of the Troops on board the Fleet, which must have rendered the Success of any Attempt to storm the Fort very precarious, should the Enemy have had Courage enough to have made a Sally upon the Troops whilst in the Boats, sixteenthly the unnecessary Delay in the Embarkation of the Troops on board the Fleet, Witness's &c. Military Board of Enquiry concerning the Failure of the Attack upon Cannanore

The Consultation of the 12th Instant that the Garrison of Tellicherry against Cannanore Fort, the Evening the 29th of last Month, which as per the Engineers Judge prevented the Ships from coming near the Place to assist and cover them from their Batteries before any Impression could be made upon the Works accordingly the remaining Part of the Military Stores on board the Fleet, which had not Occasion been made would have rendered the Success of an Assault extremely doubtful against such an Enemy as they had to encounter, However the Event appears to show that Captain Adam discharged his Duty in an honourable & Soldierly manner, they are of Opinion that renewal of the Attack might have been pursued Successfully
